Mr. Julius W. Hobson

Dear Mr. Hobson:

On behalf of the HUD Interns, thank you very much for participating in our panel on "Education in the District of Columbia." We all enjoyed it and found your remarks, and those of the other panelists, most enlightening.

Many of the interns are from outside the Washington area, but have become very interested in the problems of the Nation's Capital. Due to this interest, we began a series of seminars on various problems in the Washington, D. C. environment. This panel on education was one of the most successful seminars we have held because it exposed us to several approaches to the District's education problems.

We appreciate your taking time to meet with us and share your ideas. Thank you again.

Sincerely,

The two attachments
 very interesting. The Good luck.

Dear Mr. Hobson:

The members of the Committee have asked me to thank you very much for your exciting presentation last Saturday at I.S. #201. And of course I want to thank you too. We were able to get it all on tape, and so I was able to hear it again, and it was a very valuable experience.

We were successful I think, in getting about fifty names on the plaintiff sheets that were passed around and more are still being circulated. The press coverage was excellent, and we are generally very pleased and ready to carry on. We will keep you informed of our progress and hope to see you in Washington when some of us come for the appeal.

We have several of the reprints of your article from the Saturday Evening Post if you would like them- this is aside from the 170 that I think I gave to you on Saturday. 500 of them were $75:00- and I think you mentioned that you would like $25:00 worth of them- we have more that you can probably use to good advantage so please let me know if I should forward them (no charge!)

I don't have Mrs. Lower's address, but I would like to write to her also and thank her for telling us about The Washington Institute for Quality Education.

Again, thank you very much for coming to speak to us.

Very sincerely,

June 6, 1968

Dear Friend:

The question confronting every American today is whether the current economic and political transition for black Americans can be speedy, revolutionary and non-violent. One of the great challenges for leaders in the black community is to make the political process a more meaningful tool in bringing about an America of opportunity for all. This year's presidential contest presents an opportunity and a responsibility to substitute political power for the disruption now commonplace to the American scene.

I would like to invite you to join me in the formation of a National Committee of Inquiry which will analyze the rhetoric of the presidential candidates of all parties and report to black America our conclusions. The Office of President of the United States is not just the most powerful office on the face of the earth, but it is the office which will determine whether we will resolve the problems which now threaten the foundations of our whole system. Nothing can be clearer than the need for replacing patchwork, underfunded programs with a new means for eliminating unemployment, slum housing and racism once and for all in this country. The massive problems facing America call for new kinds of legislation and we would like to know which, if any, of the candidates would work for such legislation. Unless we do this, the validity of the entire political process may be challenged in all our communities. An immediate and energetic focus on this matter is certainly important to the future of our country.

Should you join the Committee, please indicate whether your name may be used on the stationery and in connection with the activities of the Committee. A second communication amplifying this letter will be sent to you shortly.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Hobson:

Hope this check will be of some help and only wish it could be more.

One think I'd like for you to know--of all the people in this city, you're the one I most respect and trust; you're on humanities side. Now I realize this may sound like some back-handed compliment considering the characters floating about in our city--but it's not meant that way, I assure you!

About a year ago I sent you $25 through Pat Salstonstall and it's indeed my pleasure to again "pay up." Here's to "law and order" and may it be most vigorously enforced!

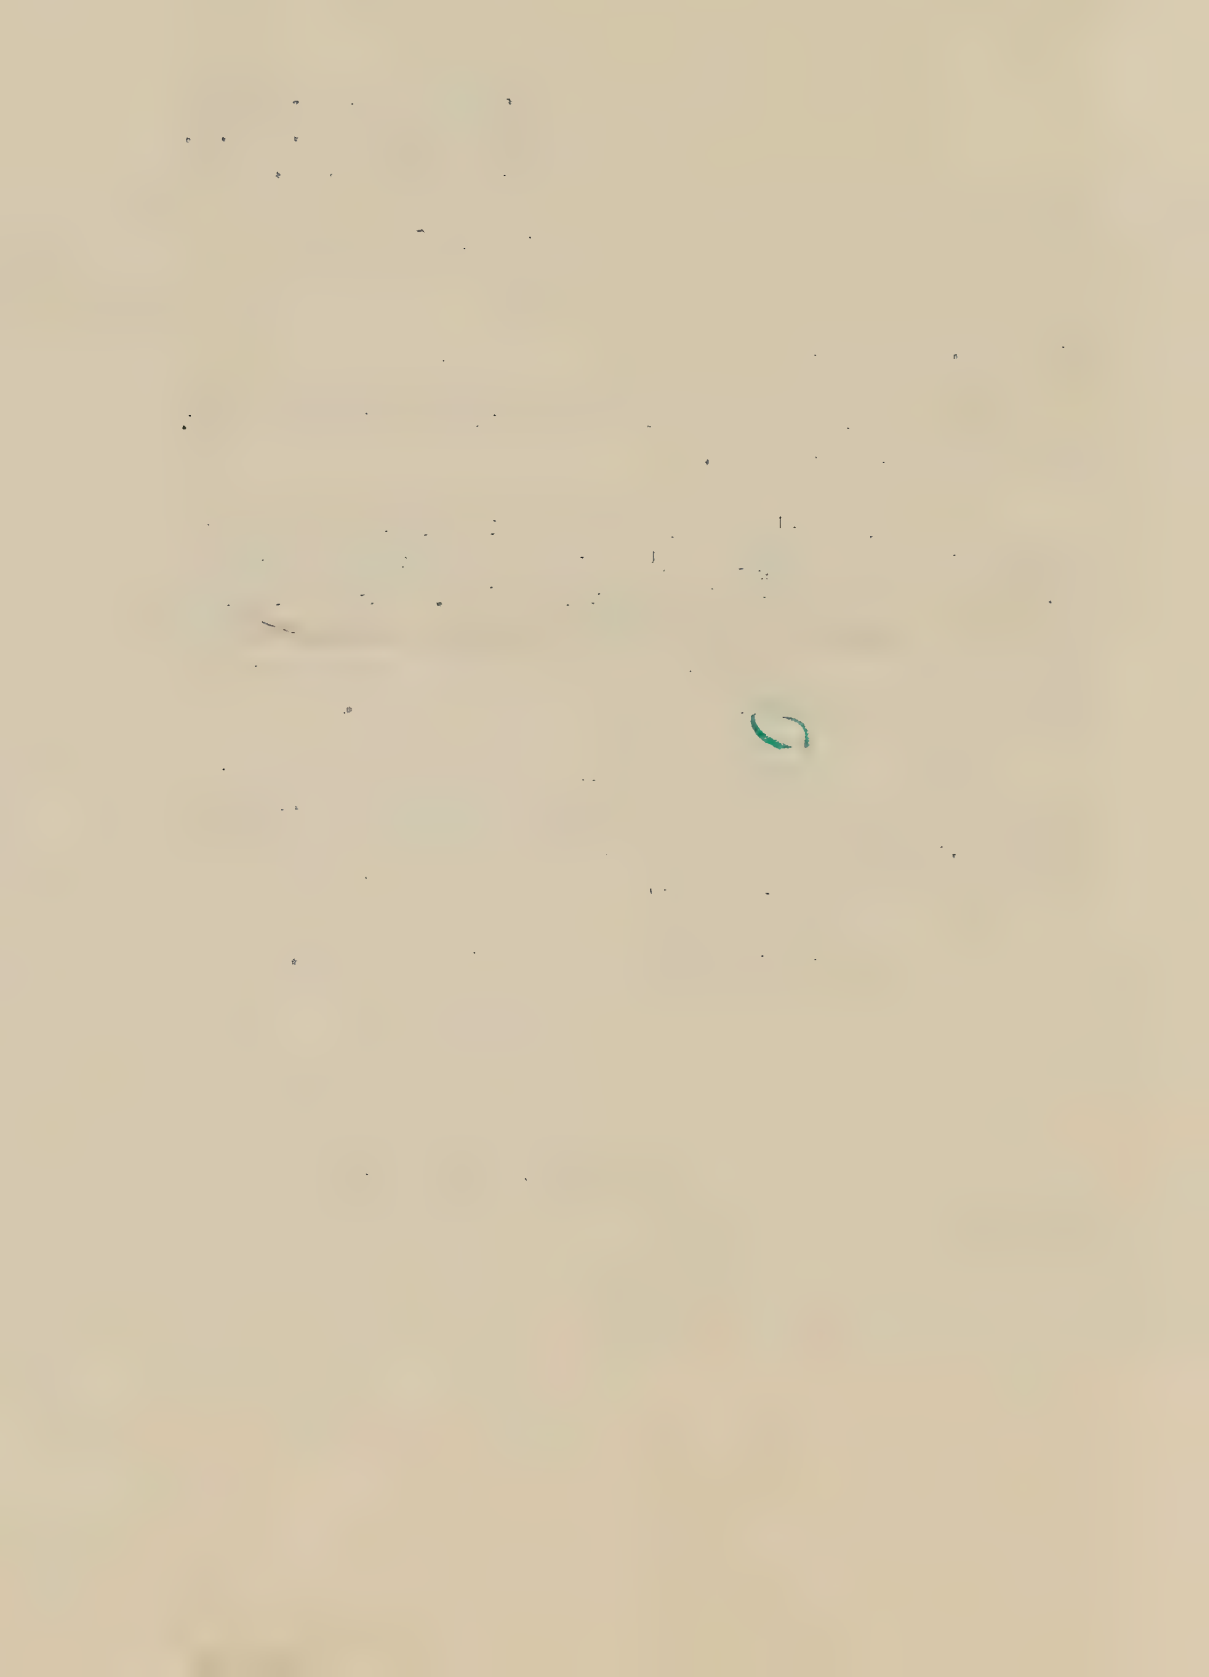

Best wishes now and in the years ahead.

Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Hobson,

I have long admired your ability, courage and integrity in the movement for justice for all and especially the down-trodden. Your stand against the existing conditions in our school system, the brutality in our law enforcement department, and the institution of race have been seen and felt throughout the black man's community.

Please find enclosed a small contribution to be used as you deem necessary to help fight these injustices.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Hobson:

My warmest thanks for your participation on the panel in THE FEDERAL EEO PROGRAM AND THE COMMUNITY last Thursday evening! It seemed to me that the course participants were very much interested, and I think all the panelists share credit for a most stimulating evening.

Your frank discussion of current issues gave us all some needed insights, and you were most responsive and informative during the question period.

I am grateful for your assistance, and hope there will soon be an opportunity for you to be with us again.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Julius:

I want to thank you for agreeing to participate in our seminars on structural change and development of leadership in metropolitan Washington. These seminars will be held here at the Center from 2:00-4:30 p.m., Monday, December 30, and 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon on Tuesday, December 31. As I explained on the phone, we will be joined by about a dozen Latin American officials who are studying American life and politics. A transcript will be made of the discussions, but if it is published you will be given the opportunity to edit your remarks. No other publicity will be given the discussion, and the press will not be present.

I plan to follow a very loose agenda, and we will begin without opening statements from individual participants. My plan is to ask that we reflect on the needs of this area for structural change in government and on the problems of developing political leadership for our local governments and the region in light of our experience and current or foreseeable problems. I think we might particularly want to address ourselves to such issues as reorganization, self-government and representation for the District of Columbia, charter revision in the suburbs, state constitutional revision, the development of the Council of Governments and other regional institutions, fiscal powers, political party development, recruitment of candidates and officials, public education, race relations in the region, and other major issues that affect the quality of leadership and the operation of government.

Mr. Julius W. Hobson

Our purpose is to illuminate and analyze rather than find solutions. We think the seminar will be educative for the participants, the observers, and if my hunch is correct, for future readers of the transcript.

The other participants in the seminar include: Reverend Channing Phillips, Professor Douglas Harman, Mr. Larry Goodwin, Mr. Gordon Hawk, Dr. Joseph Fisher, Commissioner Francis Francois, Mr. Richard Schifter, and Mr. Walter Maloney.

From the Center's staff, George Grier, Henry Bain, Kathryn Stone, Laszlo Ecker-Racz and I will participate.

Thank you again for agreeing to help. We look forward to an enlightened and lively discussion.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Hobson,

I am assuming that you are the famous Mr. Julius Hobson, the lawyer who was able to get the track system kicked out of the Public School System. I am one of the many N.C. residents who will be eternally grateful to you for your efforts in this and many other depressing aspects of our society.

At this time, I am writing to you because I feel that I may have a narrow chance of getting you to represent me in my urgent case (at least I feel that it is urgent).

I was fearful of writing to you, first because what may seem important to me may be a triviality to a great personage such as you, and secondly because I am not sure that I am writing to the Julius Hobson that I have described above. In any case, I feel that I must take this risk.

The case, that I consider urgent, has to do with my job as a Postal Clerk. I cannot relate the facts to you in this letter because, as I have stated before, I am not really sure that I am writing to the right man.

As I only have 30 days left to ~~file~~ file my grievance with the Post Office, I hope that I shall hear from you as soon as possible.

If you are interested and feel that you may be able to help me or at least be willing to listen to me, or even reject my plea, please contact me at:

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter to you, for some help in this matter. I have been living at this address, from 1963 until the present time. I came home one day in July 1968, and found a Summons sticking to the door. I was to be in Court on the 7 of August, 1968. Defendant's default in the payment of rent, there being now due rent in the sum of $ 184.00 for the period from 6/14/68 to 8/14/68. I went to Court four times before I got a dismissal for my rent was paid up and I have the receipts to show which I did to Judge Howard, some time in September. Harrison & Adams Co., 932 K Street, N.W. Herman Miller-Virginia H. Adams, 421 Fourth Street, N.W. filled another summons against me. this time I was not served with a summons and when my name was called in the assembly room, a judgment was filled against me. October 4 1968 I came home from work. I looked in the mail box and there was a letter, from the Marshal telling me that Oct 7 1968, that he would be here to set my things out. I went right down to

General Sessions Court, and had a talk with the clerk, and showed him this notice and he went to the files, and brought out the summons, that was there showing that a judgment was filled against me, for $ 109. I ~~expl~~ explained to him that I did not owe any rent. He told me that he did not know to tell me to do there was not any thing that could be did about it and that I should have been there to answer. I went to Mrs. Green, and told her what had happened. she told me not to worry that she would take care of every thing. Mrs. Green, ~~took~~ taken me before Judge Alexander, and showed him the receipts, and he issued a stay, and the marshal was informed, to the effect, he set the 9 of October, for me to be in court, I was there on the 9 of Oct. Herman

Miller, the lawyer, for Harrison & Adams Co, asked for a delay to study the action of the Court, and why he was not informed in writing. Oct 16 1968, was the next date. I was to have a lawyer, by that time. I got Edward C. Bou. he met me in the Court before the Court was in session, and he told me that he had another case upstairs, on the second floor, and if the case should come up before he got back that I could ask the Judge to pass the case for later. I told him that I had been in the assembly room for some call, and my name had not been called and I had raised hell with the clerk and they had a very hard time finding the summons, for Miller, had went and had the charges withdrawn. Bou, told me that I had nothing to worry about, then when the case was called Bou was not in Court. Judge Alexander, dismissed the summons. I called Bou, and told him what was the outcome, and he told me that that was fine, and that he would call me in a few days for he wanted to see what was on the papers. Mr. Bou, gave me all of the receipts that I had given him. he told me that I had to give him $15. dollars to check the records in the Court, which I did. I did not sign any papers at all. I told him that I was going to fill a suit, he told me that I had three years, to fill in. he has not called me at all. I have the feeling that he does not want to go any further with this matter.

Altho the judgment against me was dismissed, there is a public record of this matter. and I work for the Treasury Department Bureau of Engraving and Printing, I had a talk with a lawyer, and he did not want to handle this case, I had been trying to get in touch with you, for I ~~have~~ have not had any dealing with any lawyers, in Washington. I have been reading about the school case that you had, and I feel that you would have a good lawyer, for this was a false judgment, and the time that I have lost going to court, and the embarrassment, from this matter. I do hope that you will help me in this matter, all I want to know is a good lawyer. I would like very much to meet you and talk this matter over. Yours truly

Dear Sir..

as I am a convict now in Clinton Prison.
who is doing time for a Robbery that I did not do, and it was not fair and I had a lawyer & would not be here, but by me being from Alabama and having no knowledge of law, I was told to take a plea to first Degree Robbery, first Degree assault, and first Degree Larceny, and I was told by a lawyer who I paid ten hundred dollars to that if I said I did it, I would get five years and no more,
but after I came out of the Monroe County Hospital for the insane, I got ten to twenty five, and the lawyer did not put in no appeal for me, and it was me, I never was a Robber, and never will be, and I am for Real, so I pray that you will give me a chance to help others as I hope you will help me, yours truly, Jamie Bilbo, 43087

Dear Julius Hobson:

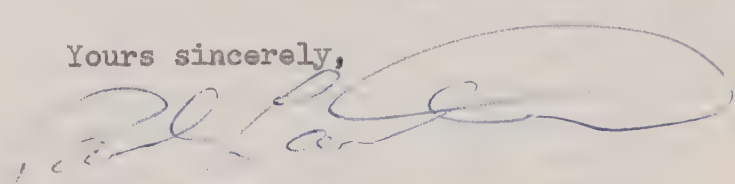

I thought you might be interested in the enclosed.

One is the statement developed by the black caucus at a conference at Harvard on "Educational Subsystems." Ken Haskins, the principal at Morgan, attended, as did Mrs. Vera Stevens, from the Morgan community. Some people from the Model School Division, including Norman Nickens, were also at the conference.

The other item was passed along to us by Grace Boggs. It occurs to me that such a conference in the District might be a great help. I would do what I can, but it doesn't seem to me that it could come from a white college like Antioch, particularly after Antioch officials have been so culpable in the Morgan business.

Incidentally, would you be willing in the next month or two to meet with my Antioch seminar to talk about strategies for change in the schools? A number attended the U.S. Civil Rights Commission meeting and expressed a strong desire to have the chance to talk with you at greater length.

Yours sincerely,

Paul Lauter

POSITION STATEMENT

FIVE STATE ORGANIZING COMMITTEE FOR COMMUNITY CONTROL

To the

Office of Metropolitan Educational Collaboration
Conference on Educational Sub-Systems

Black people in America in the year 1968 find ourselves at a critical point in our history. Having survived more than 350 years of brutal oppression at the hands of the white majority, we are now faced with two alternatives:

1. We can submit to the continued control by white people of the institutions that control our lives realizing fully that these people are victims of an ethnocentric ideology which cannot envision the development of a viable non-white civilization in modern times, and which, therefore, is bent on the genocide of all black people.
2. We can battle with whatever weapons and through whatever means necessary to wrest control of these basic institutions from the hands of those in power in order to develop our own black consciousness in accord with our sense of human values and the possibilities of human development.

It is no longer reasonable to expect the black people will continue to accept oppressive colonization by the white majority; nor that black people will submit to a genocidal system that deprives white as well as black of certain potentialities for human development.

Black people in American cities are in the process of developing power to assume control of these public and private institutions in our community. The single institution which carries the heaviest responsibility for dispensing or promulgating those values which identifies a group's consciousness of itself is the educational system. To leave the education of black children in the hands of people who are white and who are racist is testament to suicide.

Recognizing the critical nature of public education in the five cities represented at this conference and the destructive effects of the system on the black community in particular, concerned black participants have formed a black caucus to address the question: "How do we gain control of our schools; thus the destiny of our children?"

OUR POSITION ON EDUCATIONAL SUB-SYSTEMS:

We are firmly opposed to the concept of educational sub-systems. As we see it, sub-system take their place alongside compensatory education programs, proposals designed to racially balance the schools, and other techniques created by white Americans to avoid presenting relevant and innovative educational programs. These efforts are only token modifications of the power relationships which currently exclude black people from all levels of participation in the education process.

We also reject the concept of sub-systems because educators are taking what was essentially a black movement for control of our schools and redefining that movement to their advantage, creating the concepts of sub-systems, decentralization and community schools. There must be a clear differentiation between the concepts of educational sub-systems and the movement toward self-determination. Black people will not be satisfied with the compromise which sub-systems present. We will do whatever is necessary to gain control of our schools. We view movements toward incorporation of the concept of community control into school systems whose basic control remains with the white establishment as destructive to the movement among black people for self-determination.

OUR DEFINITION OF CONTROL:

The nature of the control we seek does not mean merely naming black people into administrative positions in the existing public school systems. Control must extend to the active members of the community for which the schools exist. The objectives of our concept of control of the schools are fourfold:

1. Decision-making in regard to the procedures and processes of education must be responsive to the community.
2. There must be organization for absolute administrative and fiscal control of the school.
3. The function of education must be re-defined to make it responsive and accountable to the community.
4. Supporters must be committed to complete control of the educational goals as they relate to the larger goals of community development and self-determination.

STRATEGIES: General

The strategies for accomplishing control of our schools will be essentially twofold:

1. Mobilizing community concern in regard to the need for community control.
2. Training community people (everyone with a stake in the products of the school) to effectively participate in the new process of community control of our schools.

STRATEGIES: Specific

The Five-City Organizing Committee for Community Control herein suggests the need for the following. We welcome and will actively seek monies for the implementation of these activities.

1. The organization of a national network of communication for black people concerned with the control of the schools in their communities.
2. A national conference of community people to discuss varying ideas of gaining control of schools in black communities.
3. Development of a program to influence black professionals and university people to refuse to participate in any educational conference without being accompanied by parents or activists. Black professionals also need to be influenced to begin a dialogue and working relationship with the educational consumer; namely, the student. Professionals will also be influenced to refuse to participate in any educational programs that do not adhere to our definition of control and address the question of helping community people gain this control of the schools.
4. Development of a pool of resources relevant to the educational needs of the black community as defined by the members of that community.

In sum, we demand the responsibility for what happens to our children. We consider it an insult to be asked to prove whether we can do a better job in order to be granted the necessary resources and support. We should not be forced into answering the question, "Can you do it better?" to those who have failed miserably in the past despite their control over substantial resources.

Our vision for control by the community is not on a demonstration basis for one or two years, but indefinitely.
